Gen. Salan Said Backer Of de Gaulle

Officer Delegated Civil And Military Powers In Algeria

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Gen. Raoul Salan, French commander in Algeria, is strongly backing Gen. Charles de Gaulle and is working with Algeria's rebellious Committee of Public Safety, a committee spokesman said Friday.

The statement by Leon Delbeque dashed speculation rippling through Paris that Salan was standing by Premier Pierre Pflimlin—now newly armed with emergency powers—and opposing the committee, which wants De Gaulle in power.

"All here, including Salan, in the present situation consider that the only man capable of satisfying legality and a just vindication of claims is Gen. de Gaulle," Delbeque said in an interview.

Member Of Group

Delbeque, himself a member of the committee, said De Gaulle need not take over full powers as he has offered to do. He could act as an arbitrator, the spokesman said, adding that this would have to be worked out by the politicians in Paris.

The speculation that Salan might be siding with Paris arose after the general, in an order broadcast over Algiers radio, said he alone was charged with civil and military power in Algeria.

"I have received the mission to assume temporarily civil and military powers," Salan's order to the troops said. "I will employ these to maintain order and to pursue without letup the battle against the Moslem rebels."

This had appeared to be implied allegiance to Paris, since Pflimlin had delegated civil and military power to Salan after French civilians and military committees seized authority in Algeria.

Has Confidence

Delbeque said, on the contrary, Salan had the full confidence of the safety committee and presided over many of its sessions.

It had been presumed that as head of the junta, Brig. Gen. Jacques Massu presided over all the committee meetings. Massu is a subordinate of Salan, but in the uncertain days since the committee was formed Tuesday appeared to be wielding the real power.

Anxiety Builds Up In France

PARIS (AP)—The signs of widespread anxiety have begun to appear as France gropes for a solution to the worst crisis since World War II.

Gold prices shot up on the Paris Bourse, a sure sign of trouble in a country where the citizens buy gold in times of stress.

Housewives began crowding stores to stock up on canned food and sugar—another indicator of trouble. Some stores reported their sales doubled.

Gay Parea took on a somber look. Dark-uniformed security troops patrolled its tree-lined avenues under heavy, gray skies.

The 20,000-man Paris police force was strengthened by 15,000 security troops. A special unit of the mobile gendarmerie deployed its vehicles on the outskirts of the capital.

The government banned all demonstrations and parades in public places.

The crowds appeared unusually silent, whether roaming the streets or pouring out of subway stations and suburban railroad terminals.

WITNESS — Wesley Dildy, 12, was a witness yesterday to the death of a 2½-year-old girl at the Washington zoo where she was 'fatally mauled' by a year-old lioness. The victim was Julia Ann Vogt of Chilliwack, British Columbia. (See story bottom of page).

Inquiry Seen Into Violence Against Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—An inquiry into the rough treatment given Vice President Nixon on his Latin-American tour was taken over by the full Senate Foreign Relations Committee Friday and expanded to cover anti-American violence elsewhere.

The committee decided to broaden the scope of the study to include the recent burning of U.S. Information Agency libraries in Lebanon.

Chairman Theodore F. Francis (D-R.I.) said the committee also would look into other recent incidents, but he didn't specify them. There has been anti-American rioting in Algeria and last week rifle fire splattered around the residence of the U.S. ambassador in Haiti.

A closed hearing will be held Monday to try to determine whether the South American demonstrations were part of what Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) called a worldwide Communist pattern. Testimony will be taken from State Department and Central Intelligence Agency witnesses.

The Nixon study was started by Morse, head of a Foreign Relations subcommittee, but Morse proposed that the full committee handle it. The committee agreed unanimously to take over the preliminary stages.

When these are past, Green said the committee will decide on a course of action.

Nixon will undoubtedly be invited to testify. He said upon his return from South America that the United States needs a reappraisal of policy there to combat a very clever and insidious Soviet propaganda offensive in that part of the world.

TV Panelist Dies At 104

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — George Worcester died at his home here Friday. His age was listed as 104.

Worcester was a panelist on "Life Begins at 80," a national television show which featured persons 80 or more years old. He claimed he was 98 when he first appeared on the program in 1951.

Britannia Finally Selects Beauty As Miss England

LONDON (AP) — Britannia may rule the waves, but she doesn't waive the rules for the Miss England beauty contest.

"We're going to choose a Miss England if we have to stay here all night," said competition promoter Eric Morley, "and we're going to stick strictly to the rules."

So they finally launched Miss England III of 1958—blonde and curly Dorothy Hazeldine, who is a beauty parlor operator from the grimy Lancashire industrial town of Rochdale. She is 19 years old, 5 feet 7, and, in the usual order, 36-24-37.

Eventually, she will journey to the United States to represent Britain in the Miss Universe competition in California. Two earlier nominations were nullified. The first winner turned out to be too young—only 16. The second Miss England proved to be married—another disqualification. The earlier competitions also raised the ugly charge that the slim beauties were wearing falsies, waxes and other props. Morley then ordered every girl

House Group Backs Ike's Defense Bill

President Wants More Administrative Controls, However

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee Friday approved a defense reorganization bill giving President Eisenhower most of the military command streamlining he asked, but less than he wanted in administrative control.

Eisenhower served notice that he will try to have the bill reshaped on the House floor to conform more closely with the recommendations he sent Congress two months ago. He did this in a letter commending the committee's product "by and large."

With relatively minor exceptions, the committee bill would make the changes in the structure of the military establishment which Eisenhower and administration witnesses said were necessary to tighten up and simplify command over the kind of forces that will fight any future wars.

Will Give Orders

The objective, they said, was an uncluttered line of command from the President and secretary of defense to officers in the field—who will give orders to fighting teams that usually will be made up of units of more than one service.

The committee went along in voting for an enlarged optional joint staff and to reduce the command functions of heads of the separate armed services.

The committee approved also Eisenhower's plan to put a powerful director in charge of all military research and engineering, a position from which he could presumably nip inter-service squabbles as to who would get promising new weapons.

Congress Can Block

But the committee—Republicans voting along with Democrats to approve its legislation unanimously—balked at Eisenhower proposals that had been attacked as possible future threats to Congress' control over the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps or to the continued existence and autonomy of each of these services.

Thus the committee wrote into its bill a procedure under which the head of any service who objected to the secretary of defense's abolishing, transferring or consolidating one of its major combatant functions could take his case direct to Congress. Congress could block it by majority vote, without possibility of a presidential veto.

Unidentified Sub Spotted Off Vancouver

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — An unidentified submarine was reported seen Thursday night off the west coast of Vancouver Island, the Canadian navy reported Friday. It ordered a search by planes and a destroyer escort.

The Canadian spokesman did not say how the submarine was spotted.

A few days ago a Canadian fisherman reported seeing two submarines 270 miles upcoast from Vancouver, B. C. The navy searched but found no foreign vessels.

Navy Divers Seek Body Of Missing 3-Year-Old Boy

BECKLEY (AP)—A U. S. Navy plane arrived at the Raleigh County Memorial Airport Friday with diving equipment and Navy divers to search the Guyandotte River near Pineville, for the body of 3-year-old William Frankie Smith who has been missing eight days. The Navy divers were met at the airport by three men from Pineville with the Wyoming County rescue truck. The equipment was loaded immediately and taken to Pineville to begin the diving operations.

The divers worked in pairs, with a third man acting as observer. They have necessary equipment for three men.

The divers were brought in to help in the search at the request of West Virginia Congresswoman Elizabeth Kees of Bluefield.

Sets Air Speed Mark

Capt. Walter Wayne Irwin, 34, of Hamilton Air Force Base, Calif., holds a model of the Lockheed F104A Starfighter which he flew to a new world air speed record. The mark of 1,404.19 miles per hour is about 200 miles faster than the previous record. The flight was made over Edwards Air Force Base in the California desert.

Starfighter Jet Boosts Speed Mark 200 MPH

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An Air Force jet Friday boosted the world speed record nearly 200 miles per hour.

A Lockheed F104A Starfighter averaged 1,404.19 m.p.h. on two passes 40,000 feet above Edwards Air Force Base north of here in the Mojave Desert.

The flight was made by Capt. Walter Wayne Irwin, 34, Novato, Calif., flight commander of the 63rd Fighter-Interceptor Squadron, Hamilton AFB. The Air Force calls this its first operational twice - the - speed - of - sound squadron.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff announced the feat at a news conference here.

The plane is the same type of craft that nine days ago set a new altitude record of 91,249 feet—17.28 miles—over Edwards.

The Starfighter flown Friday topped by 196½ m.p.h. the present world record of 1,207.6 m.p.h., set on the same measured course last Dec. 12 by Maj. Adrian E. Drew in a McDonnell F101A voodoo.

Gen. White termed the new mark "quite a fantastic speed for an in-service aircraft."

Research planes have flown faster. The Bell X2 reportedly flew 1,900 m.p.h. at 70,000 feet after being launched from a mother plane.

Irwin said his throttle wasn't wide open. But he added he couldn't estimate the plane's top speed because this "depends on so many conditions," including altitude and air temperature.

The temperature at 40,000 feet outside his plane was 60 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, he said. Irwin said he had been making daily attempts to break the record since last Monday.

Cocky Laborer Refuses To Talk

FARMINGTON, Mo. (AP) — Once boastful but now silent, red-haired Billy Glenn Newhouse refused Friday to talk about charges that he killed his uncle, then kidnapped three persons in a wild 300-mile ride.

The cocky, 21-year-old farm laborer at first refused to talk until he had seen his attorney. He talked to his attorney Friday, then defied authorities again by insisting he remembered nothing of what he did the night his uncle was killed.

Prosecutor Atty. David Colson of St. Francois County said the youth would be questioned again but "I doubt we'll ever get a statement out of him."

Newhouse is charged with the gunshot slaying of his uncle, James Huskey, 58, of nearby Desloge; the robbery, kidnapping and stabbing of a Poplar Bluff, Mo., service station attendant, George Tubbs; and the kidnapping of Linda Reid Rawlins, 17, and Archie Moore Jr., 25.

Mrs. Rawlins, a former girlfriend of Newhouse, said he raped her during the ride from Flat River, Mo., to Memphis Thursday.

She said Newhouse boasted of killing his uncle Tuesday night after Huskey refused him the use of his car. Both said he threatened them with a .22 caliber rifle.

Nasser Delivers Fighting Speech Following 18-Day Visit With Khrushchev

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser returned Friday from an 18-day state visit to the Soviet Union, bringing with him Premier Khrushchev's pledge of Soviet help to unite the Arab world.

Nasser delivered a fighting speech to welcoming thousands here.

He promised the United Arab Republic's military aid to support Yemen in clashes with Britain over the Aden protectorate. Yemen is federated with the U.A.R.

"In the name of the U.A.R. people," Nasser said, "we support Yemen with all our strength economically and militarily against any kind of aggression." Nasser said.

The cheering, banner-waving crowd of about 10,000 frequently interrupted his speech with cries of approval.

Nasser called lies Lebanese leaders' allegations that the U.A.R. had interfered to cause the current crisis in Lebanon. He said the U.A.R. had nothing to do with the antigovernment rioting in Lebanon that left several score dead during the past week.

The U.A.R. chief charged the assassination of a pro-Nasser editor in Beirut set off the crisis there. Now, Nasser said, the Lebanese want to turn an internal problem into an external one so they can pretend the U.A.R. is interfering and ask for foreign help.

Nasser said he had informed U.S. Ambassador Raymond Hare that the U.A.R. will support Lebanon's independence, will not try to force Lebanon into the U.A.R., and will protect Lebanon from any interference by others.

Nasser flew back from Moscow in a special Soviet TU104 jet airliner.

Rathmann, Elisian Set Track Marks At Indianapolis

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Indianapolis Motor Speedway one-lap record was cracked unofficially twice Friday in rapid succession. Dick Rathmann of Miami broke the 147-mile-an-hour barrier for the first time and Ed Elisian of Oakland, Calif., immediately turned in the first 148-mile-an-hour lap.

Both were driving cars built by A. J. Watson of Glendale, Calif.—Rathmann a McNamara special and Elisian a Zink special.

The performances promised new official records Saturday in the opening session of time trials for the 500-mile race May 30 and probably will attract a crowd of 100,000 or more.

Rathmann was timed at 1:01.21 for the 2½ miles, or 147.010 miles an hour. Elisian made the circuit in 1:00.75, or 148.148 miles an hour.

Touhy Pardon Turned Down By Stratton

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. William G. Stratton Friday turned down the pardon petition of Roger Touhy, onetime Chicago prohibition era gangster, who had sought his immediate freedom.

The decision means the 60-year-old Touhy, once known as "The Terrible," will not be eligible for release on parole until October next year.

Stratton said that nothing new has presented to warrant clemency. At a hearing on Touhy's executive clemency application in April, John (Jake the Barber) Factor testified that Touhy's claim he did not kidnap Factor 25 years ago was a fantastic lie.

Chamoun Wins Strength In Lebanon Fight

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Pro-Western President Camille Chamoun Friday won the first round in a bitter fight against rioting opponents who tried to break him. At the end of a week of turmoil, Chamoun seems to be gaining strength hourly and his opposition is becoming demoralized. An anti-government general strike has lost its punch and most cities are tranquil again after destructive rioting.

Security forces drove rioters from the streets of Beirut and other key cities.

Lebanese planes strafed a donkey caravan carrying weapons and ammunition from the direction of Syria, the government said.

Chamoun's Cabinet rejected feelers from the opposition for a compromise settlement. Opposition leader Saeb Salam, who supports President Nasser of the United Arab Republic, has found many of his colleagues weakening.

Christian elements in the opposition feared Salam intended to turn Lebanon into a Moslem-dominated republic and destroy the delicate power balance between Moslems and Christians.

Chamoun reportedly rejected a compromise proposal under which he would remain in office until the expiration of his six-year term in September but would promise not to have the constitution altered so he can succeed himself.

He has not said he wants another term, but the belief that he does apparently was one of the factors in the rioting.

Since last Saturday rioters have periodically surged through Beirut streets, touched off explosions, battled with police, sniped at people from building tops.

Security forces cordoned off a Moslem area behind Chamoun's house where a crowd gathered. Friday prayers at mosques were banned because of the fear of demonstrations.

Pflimlin Gets Parliament To Grant Powers

De Gaulle Threats Beaten; Two AF Generals Arrested

PARIS (AP) — Premier Pierre Pflimlin's sorely beset French government fought back Friday night and Saturday with extraordinary powers to beat down subversion and De Gaulle threats on the home front.

Two French air force generals were among those reported arrested under a hard new French police regime.

The big North African territory of Algeria was still held firmly by French military men and colonialists opposed to the Paris government. And the Paris government apparently is leaving that problem to be coped with when order can be restored in continental France.

In the reported arrest of the air force generals the grave French crisis touched the North Atlantic Alliance directly for the first time. One officer is on the staff of the American supreme commander in Europe, Gen. Lauris Norstad, and the other is his deputy in the French Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Resounding Approval

Pflimlin's government, now in its fourth harassed day, was given resounding National Assembly approval Friday on his appeal for emergency powers to cope with chaos. The Assembly vote was 461-114, the biggest majority ever given a postwar premier.

The Council of the Republic—Senate—approved the emergency powers act early Saturday morning 211-94.

The parliamentary action gave Pflimlin the biggest police club any of the 25 postwar premiers has had.

One of his first acts was to reshuffle his new Cabinet and bring back a man regarded as one of France's toughest high cops.

He is Jules Moch, veteran interior minister of other postwar cabinets, and the nemesis of street mobs.

Controls Function

The Interior Ministry is in charge of French police and a civilian intelligence network. It controls functions such as the FBI carries out in the United States in the Department of Justice.

The Paris government in all branches—Parliament executive, police and other venues—worked through the night. Disturbances were put down in various parts of Paris.

Before the Assembly vote, Premier Pflimlin charged there was a plot against the republic. Among those who supported him were the Communists in Parliament who loudly oppose any rightist return to power.

Paris was mainly quiet Friday night. Pflimlin's home outside Paris was bombed Thursday night and considerably damaged. Two other bombs were found and defused.

Planes Collide, Three Killed

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Two Navy planes, a jet fighter and a photo reconnaissance plane, smashed together in flight near the mouth of the St. Johns River Friday and at least three lives were lost.

The Navy said the fighter pilot ejected himself from his F9F Cougar jet and was picked up by a Navy rescue plane.

The Navy said four persons—the normal complement—were aboard the photo reconnaissance ship. The bodies of three have been recovered and searchers are still looking for the fourth, listed as missing.

Navy helicopters and surface rescue crews rushed to the area north of the St. Johns River on Little Talbot Island, one of a series of islands some 20 miles east of Jacksonville.

The Navy jet pilot was identified as Lt. (j.g.) David McCulley, 24, based at nearby Cecil Field. He was reported in good condition.

Court Turns Down Suit To Delay Primary

BALTIMORE (AP)—Circuit Judge Joseph Carter dismissed a suit Friday that asked for postponement of the primary election for next Tuesday.

Chester W. Tawney, seeking Democratic nomination to the State Senate from the 3rd District in Baltimore, asked for an injunction postponing the primary because the Board of Election Supervisors had not published a list of polling places 10 days before election day.

Tawney's attorneys said State election laws specifically called for publishing the list at least 10 days before an election.

Because the list was not published until Friday, he said, Tawney's candidacy was "irreparably harmed."

The injunction was filed Friday morning and heard by Carter within several hours. The judge delivered his verdict immediately.

Carter said first that the section of the election laws governing the publication date of polling places was vague.

But the main point, he added, was the section which definitely said that the primary election shall be held on May 20.

"If the Legislature meant that the polling places should be published 10 days before the election, and also that the election shall be May 20, it's the case of two irresistible forces colliding," he said.

"When that happens, something must give. In the interest of the public, to avoid upsetting the election arrangement and to save the taxpayers additional expense," he said, the setting of the election date must prevail.

Friends Abroad Look For Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt said Friday America's friends abroad are looking to the day when American voters end "a government ruled by big business" and consider once again the interests of the average person.

Mrs. Roosevelt made the statement in a message of greeting to the Americans for Democratic Action which began registering delegates for its three-day annual convention. She is honorary chairman of ADA and said she regretted she could not attend.

Sign Ordinance Ruling Appealed

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Is a sign painted on the side of a brick building a billboard or a poster?

No, Maurice J. Grebow contended in the Court of Appeals Friday. He asked the high court to reverse a Baltimore City Court ruling that two painted signs must be removed because they violated a city zoning ordinance regulating billboards and posterboards.

Grebow had been given permission in October, 1941 to erect painted signs on a three-story brick building at 2242 Druid Hill Ave. The larger one advertised a wine not sold on the premises and the smaller one an insurance business not conducted on the premises.

In 1953 a new zoning ordinance provided that billboards and poster boards in residential zones must come down. Grebow applied for permission to retain his painted signs but was refused by the Board of Municipal and Zoning Appeals.

Judge E. Paul Mason, in upholding that ruling in Baltimore City Court, said: "The court . . . believes that it is impossible to distinguish between billboards, poster boards and such signs, and in view of that fact, will affirm the decision of the Board of Municipal and Zoning Appeals."

Algerians Shout De Gaulle Support

ALGIERS (AP)—Swarms of robed Algerians and veiled Moslem women trooped down from the Casbah—native quarter — Friday night shouting support for French Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

Their parade to Government House in a column more than a mile long numbered about 20,000. They carried De Gaulle placards written in French. Some said, "Long live Salan." French Gen. Raoul Salan commands the 480,000 French troops in Algeria and now has dictatorial powers over civilians as well.

How such a demonstration could be organized was a mystery to veteran observers. The Casbah long has been regarded as an undercover stronghold for the Algerian nationalist rebels.

Sylvan Retreat Gets Temporary Employee

Robert Nelson of LaVale was hired yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners as a temporary employee at Sylvan Retreat.

The commissioners acted in response to a letter from Raymond G. Messmer, superintendent at Sylvan Retreat, requesting a temporary appointee to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Arnold Roy Frankland. Mr. Frankland, who was 64 and lived at 546 Fairview Avenue, died suddenly Wednesday night.

Honeybees Aid Orchards In Western Md.

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Honeybees have been given a big "E" for effort for work in Western Maryland orchards this spring.

Experts report that where the busy bee was put to work in apple orchards there has been a good fruit set despite bad weather.

Bees won't fly in just any kind of weather. And this spring hasn't supplied much bee-autiful weather.

But bee specialist George Abrams of the University of Maryland says when the weather is right nothing will turn a bee's head from the task at hand. Presumably not even a lady bee. And this paid off in Maryland orchards.

Bee specialists call this "fidelity to duty." Once bees start working apple blossoms, for instance, they don't switch brands. They stick to apple blossoms. And they pack an awful lot of flight time into a short period.

For example, Abrams says there were only two or three days during the past blossom buzzin' time that bees had good flight weather—and then only a few hours at a time. Yet, this was enough for them to accomplish their mission which was, of course, to pollinate the fruit trees.

Before a bee will rev up and take off, Abrams says the weather has to be clear. Not necessarily sunshine—but no rain. And it has to be fairly warm, say around 70 or above. Still weather also is necessary. Winds of 20 m.p.h. and up don't inspire a bee to go free-loading among the blossoms.

Although there wasn't much of the right weather during the past fruit blossom period, Abrams says the bees made good use of what there was.

Despite the shortage of suitable weather, bee colonies were able to do their job for a couple of reasons. One was the fact that when a colony is set out for pollination purposes the work force, of course, numbers in the thousands—sometimes 12,000 to 15,000. The second reason is the habit of bees of keeping their mind on their work. . . . fidelity to duty.

Abrams says farmers who have bees or rent colonies for their orchards find it pays off every year. But it pays special dividends in years like 1958 when poor flying weather sharply cuts the efficiency of wild bees.

Slightly Below Normal Weather Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The weather bureau issued Friday this prediction for the coming 30 days:

"The weather bureau's 30-day outlook for mid-May to mid-June calls for temperatures to average slightly below seasonal normals east of the Appalachians and in the extreme southeast. Above normal temperatures are predicted over the northern half of the area lying between the Great Lakes and the Rockies as well as along the West Coast. In unspecified areas near normal averages are in prospect.

"Precipitation is expected to be subnormal over the Pacific Northwest and particularly over the Great Lakes and upper Mississippi Valley where rainfall has been generally deficient for almost two months. Above normal rainfall is anticipated over the central and southern plateau states and in the southern plains. Near normal amounts are indicated for areas not specified."

Man Arrested For Drilling Slots

GLEN BURNIE, Md. (AP)—Anne Arundel County police Friday arrested a toolmaker they said was using tools to try to make a slot machine pay off.

James J. Wargo, 33, of Harundale was charged with tampering. He posted $102 collateral for a hearing in Ferndale Police Court May 27.

Sgt. Leroy Volrath and Patrolman Richard Wengert said when they arrested Wargo he was boring holes near numbers on a slot machine in an effort to make it pay off.

The machine is in a Glen Burnie grill. Slots are legal in the county.

Gordon Green Buys Westernport Building

Gordon A. Green and Margaret M. Green, his wife, of Lonaconing, have purchased a two-story brick business property at the corner of Main Street and River Road in Westernport, according to a deed filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

The property was owned by Joseph F. Habeeb and Nellie S. Habeeb, his wife. James S. Sheehee and Frances R. Sheehee, his wife, signed the deed as holders of power of attorney for the Habeebs.

Included in the property are a service station, a confectionery, a tavern, a vacant storeroom and apartments on the second floor. The Greens lived in Westernport until about six years ago.

Three Held In Safe Theft

ELLCOTT CITY, Md. (AP)—Three youths, picked up about 5 a.m. Friday, were held for questioning about the theft of a safe containing $1,000 in cash and checks from a Randallstown farm supply store.

The three, unidentified by authorities except that they were from the Sykesville area, also were being questioned about two other safe thefts.

The safe theft was discovered by the shop's owner, William J. Hanley, when he opened for business Thursday morning.

The safe, weighing 800 pounds, had been pushed from the office to a loading platform about 200 feet away. Hanley said the thieves had used dollies and block and tackle equipment to move the safe to a small pickup truck. They also took an acetylene torch, apparently to burn off the combination.

Plane Crash Injures Two

COUDERSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A single engine plane crashed in a field 25 miles south of here Friday, injuring the dean of the University of Colorado's medical school and another physician.

The wife of Dean Henry Swan, 44, nationally known heart surgeon, also was in the plane but was uninjured. The other physician is Dr. Allan B. Kortz, 33. All are from Denver.

The two men are in the St. Marys, Pa., Hospital, each with a fractured leg.

Mrs. Swan said the plane, piloted by her husband left Dubois, Pa., about 8 a.m. EDT, Friday en route from Denver to Boston, where Dr. Swan was to have presented a paper before the American Society of Thoracic Surgery Saturday.

She said the plane reached 8,000 feet when the engine began to sputter. Swan headed the craft for an open field to land, but it was unable to hold altitude and struck some trees before coming to rest.

Fishermen aided the injured men until ambulances arrived.

Sputnik III Reported Seen

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP)—A daytime visual sighting of the Russian Sputnik III was reported Friday by scientists of the Lockheed Missile Systems Division. They saw it, they said, at 11:26 a.m. with the unaided eye.

C. Roger Moe, head of Lockheed's satellite tracking station, and an aide, Virgil Counter, said they watched the mammoth moon from five to seven seconds.

Moe and Counter said that in contrast to the alternating flashing and dimming effect in night time viewing, the satellite as seen Friday appeared as a steady reflection, moving slowly from the south west to the northeast.

J. MILLARD TAWES

CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Sets the Record Straight on Who He Is Supporting for United States Senator

At a meeting in Prince Georges County on May 1, 1958, J. Millard Tawes, candidate for Governor on the Harmony Ticket stated that he would like to set the record straight as to who he is supporting for the United States Democratic Senator in the Primary on May 20th. Mr. Tawes said that he wanted to stop once and for all the attempt being made by George P. Mahoney to tie his Senatorial bid in with him. He stated "I want no mistake about it—despite what the papers may say or any other candidate may say, I am for Tommy D'Alesandro for the United States Senate." Mr. Tawes further said that he had not only been "going up and down the State proclaiming his support of Mr. D'Alesandro" but also predicted "that he would win the Primary and become the State's next U. S. Senator." This talk was made by Mr. Tawes due to the fact that Mahoney has been distributing cards by the thousands portraying his own and Mr. Tawes' pictures, and representing to the voters that Mr. Tawes was for him.

The above quotations were taken from THE EVENING STAR, May 2nd.

ment, Buchholtz said he has always welcomed constructive complaints and he, his administrative staff and employees have made a genuine effort within the confines of the department budget, to serve all sections of the city in a fair, impartial manner.

Bad weather plus heavy truck traffic as the result of unprecedented construction projects created bad street situations in some sections but the department has attempted to give temporary relief where possible until such time as something of a more permanent nature can be undertaken, he stated.

As in any progressive administration, long-range planning has also been a key factor but has been delayed because of financial snags. This long range view includes street and sewer improvements which would cost over a million dollars, he said, adding that he has advocated several times during the past four years that a half million dollar general improvement bond issue be sold to pay for improvements which have been needed for years.

Lists Accomplishments

"I feel that a great deal has been accomplished with funds at hand and the taxpayer received a return on his tax dollar from expenditures of the Street and Sewer Departments which is unprecedented and unequalled by any previous administration," the commissioner asserted.

He said 39 streets received light surface treatment or approximately 11 miles; 12 streets were curbed, paved and guttered and 15,000 feet or approximately three miles of alleys were light-surfaced or blacktopped.

These major projects plus the regular duties of the department in cleaning streets, alleys, repair of street surfaces by patching, oiling streets and maintenance, supervision of parks, the new $2,000,000 sewage treatment plant and creation of a new flood control maintenance crew, form only a part of the work of the department which has been accomplished with an average of only 65 employed in the department since 1954. Because of the five day week, Buchholtz added, the department actually averages 50

MARYLAND'S NEXT COMPTROLLER?

Louis L. Goldstein

Senate President, Louis L. Goldstein, is a candidate for State Comptroller in Maryland's next primary election. This you know. You know, too, that Senator Goldstein, native of Calvert County, is a long-time farmers' friend. Understanding the problems of agriculture as well as any man in political life, it has been the custom of "Louie," as he is affectionately known to many, to take a firm stand on any issue and stick by it until he sees it through. It is not our purpose to advise our readers how to vote — that is every freedom-loving man's, and woman's, privilege — but we do not feel it amiss to remind you that Senator President Goldstein is, and has long been, an advocate of what is best for the greatest number of Maryland's citizens, rural as well as urban, and to add a note of gratification that a man of such calibre will be running for state-wide office in the near future.

Wheat Support For Area Set At $1.81 Bushel

Growers To Vote On June 20th.

BEDFORD, Pa.—The price of 1959 crop wheat will be supported at a minimum national average rate of $1.81 per bushel, James S. Nicholson, chairman, Pennsylvania Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, announced here yesterday.

This support will apply if at least two-thirds of the growers who vote in the June 20th referendum approve marketing quotas for the 1959 wheat crop. The support of $1.81 per bushel will not be reduced but may be increased if the wheat parity price and supply situation as of July 1, 1959, indicates a higher support price.

If quotas are approved, Chairman Nicholson explains, producers in the commercial wheat area who stay within their farm allotments will be eligible for price support on their entire wheat production. Outside the area, county support rates will be 75 per cent of what they would be if the noncommercial counties were in the commercial area. Since Pennsylvania is classified as a commercial wheat state, eligible producers would be entitled to receive the higher rate.

If quotas are not approved by the necessary two-thirds vote, support for the 1959 wheat crop in the commercial wheat production area will drop to 50 per cent of parity, or about 1.20 per bushel. Compliance with allotments would continue to be a condition of eligibility for the lower support price.

The chairman said that the $1.81 per bushel represents 75 per cent of the estimated modernized parity price. The level of support is based on the relationship between the estimated total supply available for the marketing year and a determined normal supply for the year. The 1959-60 wheat supply is now estimated at 170.9 per cent of normal.

L. Collins Defibaugh, pastor, Wednesday and Thursday, May 21 and 22. Each congregation will be represented by its pastor and one lay member.

This will be the 20th annual session of the Synod since the union of the Evangelical Synod of North America and the Reformed Church in the United States, June 1934.

The Pittsburgh Synod has the distinction of having the largest number of congregations of the 33 synods comprising the Evangelical and Reformed Church. It has the distinction also of being the first synod with a full-time president. The incumbent is Rev. Harvey W. Black, D.D., whose office and residence is in Greensburg, Pa.

The main address of the meeting will be delivered by the denominational representative, Rev. James E. Wagner, D.D., president of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and co-president of the United Church of Christ. He will speak at the services Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. Many of the congregations made major repairs and improvements to their properties and additions to their buildings and equipment. Four congregations dedicated new church buildings: St. Paul's at Sharon, Pa. Rev. William Earl D. Wynn, pastor; Faith, at Ridgway, Pa. Rev. Richard E. Kneller, pastor; First, McKeesport, Rev. John R. Bucher, pastor; and Trinity, Dorseyville, Rev. Raymond C. Strine, pastor.

St. John's at Sharpsburg, Rev. Hugh D. Maxwell, supply pastor, rededicated its building which was renewed and improved following the disastrous fire on January 16, 1956. Several churches began the construction of new educational buildings.

A major interest of all the delegates to this meeting will be the election of delegates—seven ministerial and seven lay—to the general synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church and of the United Church of Christ, which will convene at Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio, July 1-8, 1959.

There will be an election also of a secretary of the synod and a lay member on the synodical council, and members of the various board and committees of the synod.

Life-Saving Banks

Science, in the field of medicine, also saves for that rainy day. It puts aside blood, bones, eyes, arteries, skin and human milk so that when emergency arises human sufferers will be helped.

In the long history of medicine, these medical banks are quite new. Refrigeration helped their development.

Blood banks were established first. "Walking blood banks" came along in the 1920's. They were the people who were on call to donate blood to patients in hospitals. Blood banks, in which blood was kept in bottles, didn't develop until 1936. During World War II and the Korean conflict, blood plasma and whole blood were flown directly to the battlefields, saving thousands of lives. Today, the Red Cross and the Office of Civilian Defense stockpile blood to meet civilian needs.

After blood banks, came the others. The eye bank helps restore sight with the use of fresh or preserved corneal tissue for grafting. Arteries are preserved to replace diseased or injured blood vessels. The bone bank replaces diseased or missing bones, and the skin bank offers temporary skin for the badly bruised. Human milk helps premature babies.

How these various banks are collected, stored and dispensed is pictured here.

BLOOD

SKIN

Dr. James Barrett Brown, left, holds glass vacuum tubes containing lyophilized skin at Washington University School of Medicine's skin bank in St. Louis. It's skin that has been frozen dry and stored at room temperature. Dr. Minot Fryer, right, takes jar of skin from container that is kept at minus 80 degrees centigrade. He wears gloves to protect his hands from cold.

EYE

At Eye-Bank for Sight Restoration in New York, laboratory aide removes glass jar containing human eye from refrigerator. It will be used in corneal grafting operation. Eyes are donated at time of death.

BONE

Doctor takes bone from bone bank at Hospital for Special Surgery in New York. Bones in bank are used to replace diseased or missing bones.

Breast milk is collected from nursing mothers by women volunteers of Evanston, Ill., Junior League, then brought to Evanston Hospital, as above, to feed premature babies.

At hospital, the milk is poured into kettle and brought to a boil by slow heat. It's then strained and made ready for feeding, as demonstrated here by Nurse Mrs. William Revenaugh.

With aid of eye dropper, Nurse Mrs. Dolores Watson at hospital feeds premature baby with the breast milk. Baby is housed in transparent isolette.

PULL HARD!

All's fair in a tug of war! At least, that's what the children think. And, as I watch them playing, I realize how relatively simple life is when you're a child. Then, a tug of war is something purely physical. Later, it is more apt to be mental—a matter of personal decision.

Some of the most important moments of our life present us with mental tugs of war. Then, we need a lot more than a rope to hang onto. We need courage and faith, a high sense of moral values, and the ability to distinguish between right and wrong.

These are the kind of things the Church teaches. That is why my children attend church regularly. One day, I know, they will be facing another kind of a tug of war. Their church training will help them make the proper choice.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'Backward' Areas And Self-Help

An unusual call for self-reliance on the part of the underdeveloped countries has been sounded by World Bank President Eugene R. Black. Black declared, "Their economic growth depends on their own efforts more low than at any time in the past decade. It is no time for them to rely on the hope that continuing errors of economic policy will somehow be made good by the assistance of others . . .

"Economic development, in the last analysis, always depends on internal effort. For countries not willing to make the effort, this is likely to be a time of unusual adversity," Black warned.

This was a man who has worked with many of the underdeveloped countries to steer them to a brighter economic future. He was saying that misgovernment and expropriation of foreign capital is not the way to induce help from abroad.

Foreign aid has been expanded into a way for this richer nation to help its poorer counterparts elsewhere to get a start toward a better standard of living. A humanitarian element has been injected, quite apart from the pragmatic one of keeping these countries from going Communist.

But it is hard to see how this munificence can be continued in countries where the exact opposite of sound economic practice prevails.

"Heaven helps those who help themselves," goes an adage. And World Bank President Black is saying politely that this goes for nations, too.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky
The Plant Grows Old

Those who are surprised at Soviet Russia's advance in heavy industry overlook the fact that they have an entirely new plant. They can take advantage of every improvement made anywhere in the world. Our plant in the heavy industries, particularly in steel, is comparatively old, which could mean about 20 years old. This is not a problem of managerial competence; it is one of taxation and the unwillingness of the government to recognize that a plant erected in 1939 can only be replaced in 1958 at about two and a half times its original cost or more.

No matter how high the earnings of an industry may be, it can be short of money for replacements and modernization, unless the tax laws and the methods of collecting taxes recognize that the purpose of a depreciation reserve is to modernize plant and equipment so that the operation is always efficient and competitive.

Father William T. Hogan, professor of economics at Fordham University, who has made a special study of this subject, makes the point that while the purchasing power of the dollar in 1956 was just half of its 1939 value (it has fallen lower since), the construction dollar has fallen to less than 40 per cent of its 1939 value. . . . Thus, it takes two and one-half dollars today to build what one dollar would build in 1939 and 1940. This presents a serious problem in the replacement of worn-out facilities, for generally speaking, the equipment installed in 1939 at the cost of 1 million dollars could not be replaced today for less than 2½ million dollars, yet the depreciation funds set aside for this replacement amount only to the original cost, or 1 million dollars. Thus an additional million and a half is necessary if equipment is to be replaced and operations maintained."

This is not only impractical from the standpoint of the individual companies; it is impractical from the standpoint of national interest. It is responsible for out-ricing many American commodities even in home markets. While there are some who believe that the day is not distant when steel will be replaced by lighter metals, that day is not yet, and what applies to steel, in this matter, applies universally to everything. It applies to all plants and equipment that have to be written off in a period of 20 or 30 years.

This situation was somewhat modified by the Second Revenue Act of 1940 which permitted a five-year write-off for war plants. Many of these plants were for special purposes anyhow and had to be reconverted as soon as the war was over. As regards equipment, some machine tools are useful only for particular tasks. Under our tax laws, it grows increasingly difficult to maintain a modern, efficient plant, capable of competitive performance with the newest and best plants in the world.

Father Hogan stated the case of the steel industry clearly and succinctly in a statement before the House Ways and Means Committee on January 15, 1958:

"Much of the equipment in the steel industry is large, expensive and long-lived; consequently, the industry has been particularly hard hit by the post war inflation and the lack of adequate depreciation funds for the replacement of plant. The average life of steel mill equipment is 20 to 25 years. Thus, at the present time, the industry finds it necessary to replace assets acquired in the middle and early 1930's. The original investment in this equipment, and consequently, the depreciation accrual amounts to less than one-half their present replacement cost. The problem is further aggravated by the sheer size of investment required to produce iron and steel. At present the industry has 13 billion dollars worth of fixed assets in operation, and a substantial portion of these must be replaced every year."

No real solution has been offered for this problem which does not include further inflationary activities. What built these and all American industries was the retention of earnings. Simply stated this means that a man or a corporation retained earnings to improve the business. That is impossible today because of taxes.

It was never intended that taxes should be used to make our plants old and inefficient so that they ceased to be competitive with newer and better plants often built abroad because of American economic or military aid.

Not Helping His Temper At All

Beacons Of Danger And Disaster Are Lighted

WASHINGTON

In older days, beacon fires burning on the hilltops brought the news of danger and disaster. But now the warning is conveyed by the smoke of incendiary libraries of the U. S. Information Service.

There is nothing very surprising, to be sure, about the shocking developments in South America, in Algeria and in the Lebanon. Those who followed these situations had long foreseen trouble of this sort, just as those who followed the Soviet and American rocket - development programs long foresaw the Soviet triumph with the Sputnik.

Indeed, the Sputnik and the orgies of violence in Algiers, Caracas and Beirut have a major point in common. Both unmistakably revealed an already existing state of affairs that had been hidden from the American people. The Sputnik disclosed the loss of the American political lead, in the same period.

This loss of our political lead is no localized phenomenon, either. Within the last fortnight, pro-Communist forces have made important gains in Indonesia. They have won a striking electoral success in Laos, which will effect Laos's bigger South East Asian neighbors. And they were actually trying to set fire to still another U. S. I. S. library in Burma (for once in a way unsuccessfully) at the very moment when Vice President Nixon was showing such courage under attack in Venezuela, halfway 'round the world.

Furthermore, the putsch in Algeria and, only a little less directly, the disorders in Lebanon, threaten the very heart of the Western Alliance. Because of Algeria, France's future role in the Alliance is now an open question. Because of the explosion in Lebanon, the Middle Eastern oil-jugular of Britain and the rest of Western Europe may perhaps be out before long.

In this respect, indeed, these lurid events most emphatically differ from the Sputnik, which only revealed the existing state of affairs without greatly changing it.

Consider, for example, the very great and very terrible changes that are likely to occur if the crisis in Lebanon is not brought under control.

The President of Lebanon, Comille Chamoun, is now re-living a familiar pattern. In 1952, Chamoun's predecessor, President Bechara El Khoury, was seeking to amend the Lebanese constitution so that he could succeed himself in office. On that occasion, groups friendly to Chamoun demonstrated against the constitutional change. The Lebanese Army Commander, Gen. Shehab, held aloof from the struggle. So Bechara El Khoury had to flee the country for a while, and Camille Chamoun was elected to the presidency.

In the present instance, Camille Chamoun is seeking the same constitutional change for the same purpose. The same Gen. Shehab, as these words are written, is pleading that arthritis prevents him from taking strong action. But now the disorders are the direct result of a flagrant attack on Lebanese independence by Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser; and if Chamoun is defeated, it is Nasser who will win the real victory.

By Joseph Alsop

As one of the West's stoutest friends in the Arab world, Camille Chamoun furthermore has an importance that Bechara El Khoury altogether lacked. Another leading Western friend in the Middle East, King Saud of Saudi Arabia, has already succumbed to Nasser's attacks. If Nasser can also pick off Chamoun in the Lebanon, the chain reaction will almost certainly become quite uncontrollable. King Hussein of Jordan, the government of Iraq and every Western friend in all the Middle East will be at once exposed to the most deadly peril. And if these friends are lost, the oil-jugular will be cut.

Western and American interests are similarly threatened in almost every other quarter of the globe at the moment. There is no use blaming "Communist agitators," either, for all these many perils.

The plain truth is that the peril might have been avoided, or at least contained by greater, wiser and bolder American leadership. Despite many previous errors of policy, the United States still stood at the head of the world in 1952. Despite the great losses since 1952, the United States can again stand at the head of the world, given the needed leadership—which could well be provided, in this reporter's opinion, by Vice President Nixon. But the end of the road is now clearly discernible, if we go on as we are going.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

When Reese, Snider and westward hoers! are through playing there will be a crop of bums that Brooklyn fans have never seen. And never will gander.

So there will not be the twenty per cent curiosity attendance attracted by reports of the Bums' bumosity.

Right now the Phils are the New York home television team. The fans root by ordering another beer or smoking another cigar.

That goes for the Giants too when Willie Mays turns up his spikes. The magic name of John McGraw will have faded out.

Same thing happened when the Braves migrated from Boston to Milwaukee. Warren Spahn is still the connecting link between the two cities. Even though the Boston fans have no way of seeing him in action.

Instead of four National League teams on the East Coast there is one. That's the Phillies with a wonderful pitching staff fading like a beach umbrella.

The furthest east the Phillies can play an opponent is Pittsburgh. The only sport we have on Eastern Standard Time is bingo.

New York cannot depend on the televised Phils. Some day a studio card will go up, "No Game, No Sponsor."

Warding Off The Misery Of Motion Sickness

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

The victim of seasickness is not alone in his misery. Many famous persons have been bothered. Lord Nelson, the British naval hero, was susceptible, as were Julius Caesar, Magellan, and Ulysses. Cicero said he preferred to face assassins rather than expose himself to the rigors of the sea.

Animals are bothered also; fish being transported on a ship from the Galapagos islands to the New York aquarium became seasick. Lawrence of Arabia suffered from motion sickness while riding a camel on the sands of the desert.

Children are more susceptible to motion sickness than are adults, which is why so many youngsters get carsick after traveling 50 or more miles. The majority outgrow it. Experience helps, as many travelers are troubled less with each succeeding trip. But everyone has his breaking point and will get pale around the gills if the weather is bad enough.

There are more than 15 motion sickness remedies, including Dramamine, Bonamine, Marezine, and Trimeton. Atropine and scopolamine are old-timers but still valuable. Prevention is worth a pound of cure in this ailment. These drugs are approximately 60 per cent effective when taken after the individual develops nausea; they are 90 per cent successful when taken before boarding plane or ship.

NO APPETITE

J. M. writes: How can an older person's appetite be stimulated?

REPLY

There are many facets to this problem and what is applicable to one may not apply to another. A tranquilizer, for example, will help people who do not feel like eating because they are emotionally upset. In others, appetite is stimulated with a tonic such as vitamin B, brandy, wine, or the oldie, elixir I.Q.S. A little exercise does the trick in others. Those who are ill mentally or physically may not feel like eating until they get well.

HOW ABOUT WATER?

Go on a reducing diet and somewhere in the fine print you will read: "No alcoholic beverages."

Try And Stop Me

A raw recruit at a Marine "boot" camp had just been put over the obstacle course: through a thick, tangled patch of forest; across an ice-cold, swift-running river, and under a maze of wicked barbed wire. "Well, boy," grinned a diabolical sergeant, "how do you like being a Marine?"

"Shucks, sarge," answered the recruit innocently, "where I hail from, we gotta go through country like this just to get to the barn!"

Italy's Voting System Leans Over Backward To Help Splinter Parties

By Drew Pearson

ROME — The Italian people have been voting for 2,600 years. They started when Tarquinius the Etruscan arrived in Rome 600 years before Christ and began electioneering to have himself made King, and they have survived the Caesars, Mussolini, Charlie Poletti and Clare Boothe Luce.

In the election that comes up eight days hence they will have to survive a battle between so many splinter parties that the uninitiated who tries to slide down the cellar door of Italian politics is likely to get his backside badly perforated.

The Italian voting system also leans so far backward to give a break to the little parties that the two big parties—the Christian Democrats and the Communists—have to win about 800,000 more votes each over 1953 merely to hold their present strength in Parliament. It's a voting system in which every group and shade of public opinion gets represented and where everyone is required to vote.

The penalty, if you don't vote, is to have the unpatriotic words "He did not vote" marked on documents you may require from the government in the future.

A confusing array of 15 different political parties will confront the Italian voter when he walks into the polls next Sunday, all represented by symbols—the Cross for the Christian Democrats, the hammer and sickle for the Communists, ivy for the Republicans, lions for the Monarchists. Some of these parties are led by ardent champions of the United States such as Randolfo Pacciardi, former Minister of Defense and head of the Republicans, who worked for the International Ladies Garment Workers in New York while exiled from Mussolini.

Then there's Giovanni Malagodi, born in the United States, a banker and businessman who leads the Liberal Party and who has made more speeches than any other candidate. Giuseppe Saragat, head of the Social Democrats, is another unfailing friend of the United States. These independent parties may hold the balance of power after the returns are counted May 25.

Communists vs. Church

But basically this election boils down to a struggle between the Christian Democrat party, which has the support of the Vatican and is strongly pro-United States, and the Communists, who are anti-church and anti-United States.

The amazing thing about this election, to an outsider, is the manner in which these two major parties, diametrically opposed on almost every issue, are peacefully campaigning against each other—without incident, without too much rancor and with a live-and-let-live tolerance only to be found perhaps in the Italian people.

Right in front of the Church of Saint Mary Major is flaunted a large cloth banner which reads "Vote Communista." Behind the church is another banner with the same slogan. Both feature the hammer and sickle of Soviet Russia. They are fixed to electric utility poles by special permission and have a right to remain where the churchgoer can see them as he enters and leaves church.

In one public square is a huge Communist banner flaunting the hammer and sickle. Beside it is the banner of the Christian Democrats featuring the cross. Both are attractively painted and expensive. No one tears them down.

"When 30 per cent of the people are Communists you have to get along with them," explained one Italian official. "After all, they are Italians."

Attempted Assassination

Palmiro Togliatti, wily leader of the Communists, is one of the few men to be shot three times at close range by a .45 colt revolver and live to tell the tale. Crossing a street in Rome on July 14, 1948, Togliatti was shot three times by an Italian youth who whipped a revolver from a paper bag. Thereafter the head of the giant Fiat works in Turin offered to put his private plane at Togliatti's disposal. Thereafter also, the head of the Communist Party was treated first by Dr. Mario Ceravolo, a Christian Democrat member of Parliament, and later operated on by the noted surgeon, Dr. Pietro Valdoni.

The operation took place under the cross which Togliatti has flouted, with his wife on one side and his mistress on the other. Pietro Nenni, head of the Socialist Party which cooperates with but is not a part of the Communist Party, wrung his hands in an anteroom.

Nenni gave back his Stalin medal along with his accompanying $20,000 in cash after the Hungarian freedom outbreak was crushed. He can no longer walk behind Togliatti. He has to stand on his own feet. But he is still cooperating with the Communists, and his 3,441,000 votes in the last election constitute the third biggest bloc in Italy — a bloc which draws strength from those who don't like the church yet don't want to vote Communist. What Nenni does, who he supports, are the most important political enigmas of Italy.

A Crucial Decision

By Brother Barnabas

The political and economic turmoil the world is in, coupled with the business recession throughout our country, has produced a popular state of mind little short of hysteria.

The diplomats, the economists and the politicians can't agree among themselves and the rest of us are only hoping for a better day.

When will the cloud of war vanish; when will business get back on an even keel; when will the dove of peace hover over the world?

Maybe the bird will be an ominous raven quothing "Nevermore!"

The present scene finds an analogy in Frank L. Stockton's "The Lady or the Tiger."

As the story goes, in olden semi-barbaric times a device was employed for testing the guilt or innocence of a person accused of crime.

The accused stood before two doors, one of which he was to open, not knowing what was back of either.

Behind one was a hungry man-eating tiger, and behind the other a beautiful lady arrayed as a bride.

Out in front were assembled the king and his court and a multitude of curious spectators filling the arena and wondering what the verdict would be.

Which Door Would You Open?

If you were the man in the case, gentle reader, and had to decide, which door would you open? You would probably sweat blood and pray that the gods might be kind to you, n'est-ce pas?

Assuming that you were happily unmarried and gainfully employed you might be willing to become the piece de resistance at a tiger banquet, provided there were to be no after-dinner speeches.

Or, if you happened to pull the right latch-string, would you take the beautiful lady to be your wedded wife, to have and to hold, with all her worldly goods endowed? Don't be silly.

In either case you would be a brave man.

Take The Consequences

(Note: If you are already married don't show this paragraph to your wife if she is jealous).

The main interest in "The Lady or the Tiger" is what happened; Which door was opened, what happened to the man who had to decide. There the story ends leaving such questions in suspense.

It's the literary instinct of the writer and true to life. The formula of closed and open doors is common in the drama of human experience. We make decisions, the consequences take care of themselves.

It's so in every turn of the road, starting with babyhood and continuing through adulthood.

During a baptismal ceremony

"Our little systems have their day; They have their day and cease to be; They are but broken lights of thee, And thou, O Lord, art more than they."

(In Memoriam)

Arrogant rulers who buck the Almighty and his laws will eventually find that they are playing a lone hand. Maybe that is why the Soviets want to move to Mars where they may have a monopoly on the universe.

Know all men by these presents that no one nation can rule the world except "under God."

Parliaments, presidiums, congresses may decide on their own home policies, but democracy and totalitarianism can not live amicably together on the same planet.

East and West must get together in mutual understanding, territorial rights, racial privileges, cultural opportunities or the world will be out of joint.

Who is wise enough to open the door to a brighter day?

"He's got the whole world in His hands; He's got the li'l tiny baby, He's got you and me, Brother, He's got everybody here in His hands."

Decisively yours,
BROTHER BARNABAS

Dave Richards tossed a two-hitter and struck out 15 batters as Beall High School handed Allegany High School's Campers their first defeat of the season in the Allegany County Inter-scholastic Baseball League yesterday at Frostburg by the score of 6-1.

It was indeed a bad day for Cumberland teams as George Lauder of Valley High School hurled a no-run, no-hit game in mastering Fort Hill's defending champions, 1-0, and Bruce High's Bulldogs scored a 3-2 decision over LaSalle High School at Penn Avenue Field.

Coach Joe Carter's Mt. Savage High School Indians scalped the Flinstone Aggies at Flinstone, 13-2, for their sixth win in a row and took over the runner-up position right on the heels of the Campers.

Richards Wins Fifth
Richards notched his fifth win of the campaign against one loss by mastering the Campers. Beall and Allegany battled seven innings to a 5-5 tie in their first meeting of the season.

One of the two hits yielded by Richards was a home run by Lefty Bill Hook in the third inning for the Campers' lone tally. Hook, incidentally, suffered his first loss of the season after having won his first four starts. He yielded 10 hits, three of which were credited to Allen Gene Zumpano, Richards and Jack Parker slammed two-baggers for Coach Melvin Brown's Mountaineers who moved into fourth place with a 6-2 record.

Lauder Shakes Jinx
Valley's George Lauder, who had suffered four successive reverses and hadn't won a game this season, popped up with the first no-run, no-hit game of the season yesterday against the league leaders. Valley had six runners on the patters, four via walks and two on errors, but they were unable to solve the slants of the husky Valley right-hander. On one occasion the Sentinels advanced a player to third and attempted to squeeze home a run but the runner was cut down on a play executed by Lauder, Broadwater and Rodney Johnson.

Donnie Lewis started on the rubber for Fort Hill and in his debut gave a good account of himself. He yielded all of Valley's four hits in 4 1/2 innings before finishing up to Russell Jones who finished on the hill for the Sentinels. "Hank" Winner was the only player to obtain two hits. There were no extra base blows.

Ron Cook made it 3-0 for the campaign by twirling Mt. Savage to victory over a Flinstone team that went down to defeat for the tenth consecutive time. The Ellerslie had given up only four hits and struck out five. Mt. Savage lapped the offerings of Bible and Boggis for 12 safeties, with Paykett, Jack Lowery, Bill Birt, Leroy Morris and Don Lowery connecting for two hits each.

Explorers On Toboggan
McIntyre went the route as Bruce High School handed LaSalle its fourth straight setback and dropped the Explorers into fifth place, one game in front of Bruce. Eddie Green was the losing pitcher.

Potomac, Shepherd To Windup Series

Potomac State College's baseball team will engage in its 18th game of the season today when it meets Shepherd College's Rams in a West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference contest at Shepherdstown.

The Calatamons (10-6-1) won the opening game of the series at Keyser by the score of 8-3 on April 17.

On Monday Coach John Fox's tossers will windup their season by playing the West Virginia University Freshmen in Keyser at 3 p. m.

CVAL Track Meet Set Here Today

The third annual Cumberland Valley Athletic League track and field meet will be held at Fort Hill Stadium today at 1 p. m.

Schools competing are Handley High, of Winchester, Va., winner for the past two years, Frederick, Martinsburg, Westminster, South and North Hagerstown and Fort Hill.

There will be 15 events on the program.

TOOK A LONG TIME—In his 11th season with the Philadelphia Phillies, Robin Roberts records his 191st pitching victory, which now makes him the top pitcher in Phillies history. Roberts erased the 190-win mark held by Grover Cleveland Alexander, who pitched for the Phils from 1911 through 1917 and then in 1930 when he retired. Alexander, however, won 128 games for the Phils and 55 for the St. Louis Nationals for a total of 373 victories. (International)

Mrs. Mary Kiddy has been employed by Kifer to have charge of the lunch counter and confectionary.

Kifer plans to keep the bowling alley open through the summer and later to start a teen-age club in a section of the building not being used. Business hours will be from 1 to 12 p. m.

U.S. To Send Tanks To Lebanon

WASHINGTON — The United States said Friday it expects to send tanks to Lebanon's pro-Western government shortly.

The tanks would be part of what the State Department termed a "modest military assistance program" for Lebanon's armed forces.

A department spokesman who reported this said the tanks and other military goods would be in addition to what he called police equipment now being flown to Lebanon in response to an urgent request from Premier Camille Chamoun's government.

Cardinals Blank Los Angeles, 2-0

ST. LOUIS — The six-hit pitching of Sam Jones and a two-run homer by Stan Musial, the league's leading hitter, gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 2-0 victory Friday night over the last-place Los Angeles Dodgers. Jones struck out nine.

It was the eighth triumph in nine games for the Cardinals, fighting to offset a miserable start this season.

Jones, now 3-3 for the season, struck out eight in losing to San Francisco April 23 and struck out seven in defeating Chicago 3-2 May 9.

Musial's game-winning home run came in the sixth off loser Johnny Podres, who held the Cards to four hits in the six innings he worked.

Two building permits for dwellings estimated by the builders to cost a total of $9,500 were issued yesterday by the Allegany County assessor department.

Donald W. Black, 171 Center Street, Frostburg, was issued a permit to build a five-room brick dwelling on Lot 37 of Delano Avenue in Election District 11 for $5,000. The 50 by 30 foot building will be completed by April 1959.

William H. Wharran, RFD 3, Frostburg, obtained a permit to construct a dwelling and garage of stone in Election District 24 at Eckhart for $4,500. The 31 by 48 foot building is due for completion in 1959.

Simmons Wins With Six-Hitter

PHILADELPHIA — Harry Anderson's inside the park home run and a circuit clout by Stan Lopata backed up southpaw Curt Simmons' six-hit pitching Friday as the Philadelphia Phillies defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-2.

Simmons had one streak from the second through the sixth innings where he set down 14 Pirates in order. By this time the Phillies, on the strength of the bats of Anderson, Lopata and Rip Repulski, had the game sewed up.

Anderson's homer came in the first with Richie Ashburn aboard. It hit the scoreboard in rightfield, rolled along a catwalk and then dropped back into play.

Meany Denies Working With Expelled Unions

WASHINGTON — President George Meany denied Friday that the AFL-CIO is working with unions previously expelled on grounds of corruption.

Others in the big labor organization had said Meany had not objected to a recent meeting in which two AFL-CIO officials explored a proposed waterfront agreement with President William V. Bradley of the International Longshoremen's Assn., and President James R. Hoffa of the Teamsters Union.

The longshoremen's union was thrown out of the old AFL on grounds of domination by racketeers. The Teamsters were ousted from the AFL-CIO on charges of corruption.

MORGANTOWN — West Virginia's baseballers, still stinging from the 8-3 licking handed them Thursday by Fairmont State, try to regain the victory trail against old rival Pitt Saturday.

The Panthers, who own a 3-2 victory over WVU in a previous clash this season, will invade Hawley field for the contest. The Pitts have taken six out of the last seven meetings between the two clubs.

The Fairmont State loss cut the Mountaineers' record to 11-10. WVU is scheduled to close its season next Tuesday at Waynesburg.

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., May 17—Moorefield High School's Yellowjackets won the sectional baseball title today by turning back Mathias High School, also of Hardy county, in a playoff contest by the score of 5-3.

The playoff game was necessitated when Moorefield and Mathias posted 4-0 records in their section.

Harry Fitzwater kept his record unblemished for the season by posting his fifth victory, limiting the visitors to six hits, including a double by Lowell Mathias. The Jackets' ace struck out six and failed to issue a pass.

Moorefield collected seven hits, including a two-bagger by Bill Toohy and triples by Jimmy Paugh and Jim Vetter.

Coach Johnny Paugh's tossers are expected to face Keyser High School in the next contest, a regional test. Box:

Nine Events Carded Sunday At Airport

Peg Wyllie Seeking 4th Win; Program Starts 8:30 A.M.

Walter Hansgen, of Westfield, N. J., will be seeking his third victory in a feature event and Mrs. Margaret "Peg" Wyllie, of Allison Park, Pa., will be shooting for top honors in the Ladies' Division for the fourth time when the Cumberland National Sports Car Races are staged Sunday morning and afternoon at the Cumberland Municipal Airport.

In 1953, Hansgen, driving a Jaguar Special, scored his first victory here in the 96-mile feature event. The New Jerseyite clicked again in 1956 in a Jaguar, an average speed of 68 miles per hour in a one hour race of 44 laps around the 1.6 mile course. Last year Hansgen, piloting a Jag, finished second to Carroll Shelby, America's Sports Car Driver of the year in 1956, who negotiated the airport course in record time of 70.4 MPH. The Dallas, Texas, driver's time was 60 minutes, 6.10 seconds. Shelby is at the Indianapolis Speedway and is not expected to be here tomorrow to defend his title. Charles Wallace, Washington, D. C., third place finisher in 1957, also is expected to be among the missing.

"Peg" Won Three Times
Mrs. Wyllie, wife of Dr. M. R. J. Wyllie, who played a prominent part in bringing the sports car races to Cumberland and was the winner of the feature grind in 1953, sped home the victor in the Ladies Races of 1953, 1954 and 1956. Her closest competitor, Suzanne (Suzy) Dietrich, of Sandusky, Ohio, has figured in five races here, won the 1955 test and finished second three and third on one occasion. Last year's winner was Denise McCluggage, a sports car race reporter for the New York Herald Tribune. The Wyllies will pilot new Elvas powered by Coventry Climax engines. Dr. Richard Milo, Pittsburgh psychiatrist and a newcomer here, will be driving a LeMans proto-type A. C. Bristol. Denise McCluggage is expected to return for the Ladies' race.

Drivers Expected Here

Other top flight drivers expected to vie here are Paul O'Shea, of Rye, N. Y., in his Mercedes-Benz 300 SLS, Briggs Cunningham, of Connecticut, and his stable of drivers plus six D-type Jaguars; George Reed Jr., of Midlothian, Ill.; Benjamin Fowke Jr., of Baltimore; George H. Ragdale, Norfolk, Va.; Ed Welch, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Charles C. Helsey Jr., Framingham, Mass.; "Pup" Pupulidy, Freeport, N. Y.; Dick Lord, Washington, D. C.; George Constantine, Sturbridge, Mass.; Bill Henry, Arlington, Va.; Maj. Gil Gettner, Falmouth, Mass.; Anatole C. Lapine, Detroit; John Johnston and John Quackenbush, Cincinnati; Don Webster, Evanson, Ill.; Andy Hutton, Dearborn, Mich.; Jim Haynes, New York City; Bob Grossman, Nyack, N. Y.; Tom Gilmour, Toronto, Canada; Lex Dupont, Wilmington, Del.; Duncan Black, Parkton, Md.; and J. E. Hugas, Pittsburgh.

Third National Program

This is the third year the Cumberland races are being recognized as a national event in which drivers attempt to garner points toward this year's championship standings. The "air event" like the past two years will be known as the Edgar D. Vandegrift Memorial Trophy Race, named in memory of the late Cumberland building contractor.

While there never has been any official figures as to attendance the unofficial estimates started with 7,500 on July 19, 1953, jumped to 12,000 in 1954 and hit as high as 40,000 last year. Some predictions are that the turnout will approach 50,000 tomorrow. Five years ago, there were 92 cars and 72 drivers. Today the promoters are expecting between 250 and 300 drivers out on the airport strip for trial runs. The trials will start at 11 a. m., and Sports Car Club of America is last until 6 p. m. Registration and in charge of the technical phases safety inspection were held on the program and the co-sponsor throughout Friday followed by a sor is the Cumberland Lion Club meeting last night at the Fort Foundation, which uses the proceeds for its sight conservation.

Ballot Doesn't List Those Who Are Unopposed

The Board of Election Supervisors of Allegany County has decided that names of unopposed candidates need not be placed on the May 20 ballots.

This stand was taken some time ago, and the board was surprised to find that last week the attorney general's office handed down an opinion stating to the contrary.

John M. Robb, attorney to the election board, said the supervisors took their action to delete the unopposed candidates because of Section 64-D of Article 33 of the election laws of Maryland.

The section states:

"If after the expiration of the time allowed by this subtitle for candidates for public office, delegates to conventions members of state or local central committees to qualify for the purpose of having their names placed upon the official primary election ballot in any legislative district of Baltimore City or in any counties of the state, it shall appear that only one set of candidates of any such political party have so qualified, and in that event certificates of nominations or selection shall be issued to the candidates so qualified in a similar manner to that herein provided for successful candidates at primary elections, and no such primary election shall be held for such political party."

However, in a letter on the same question to the Board of Supervisors of Elections of Baltimore City, the attorney general's office said that names of candidates for delegate to convention and for members of state and local central committees should be on the primary ballot even if unopposed, so that they may be properly elected.

Stedman Prescott Jr., deputy attorney general, and Charles B. Reeves Jr., assistant attorney general, who issued the opinion, referred to two other sections of the election laws.

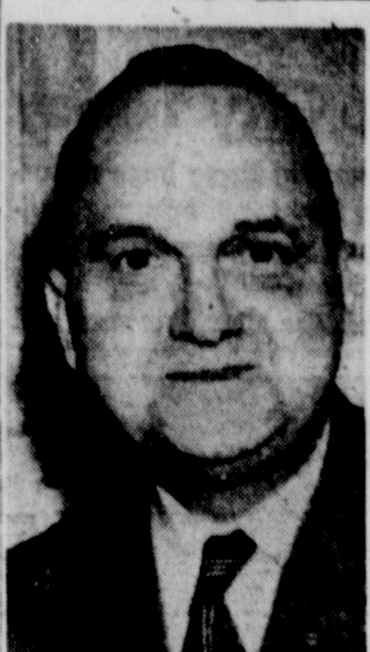

One concerns election of delegates to nominating conventions, and the other to the election of state central committees.

They also referred to two previous opinions of Maryland attorney generals.

Their opinion dealt specifically with convention delegates and state central committees.

If the attorney general's office is upheld in its interpretation, there could be the possibility in the hot U.S. Senate race in the Democratic primary that Allegany County votes could be challenged at the convention on this basis.

However, Robb said yesterday, the election board, based on the law, could issue certificates of nomination for the delegates of the two parties.

ENDS LONG SERVICE—H. B. Averman, 945 Braddock Road, has retired from the H. J. Heinz Company after 36 years of service as a salesman for the firm. Averman worked in Pittsburgh, Latrobe and Braddock, Pa., before moving to Cumberland in 1934, where he has resided since. Averman was honored at a recent dinner by employees of the Johnstown Branch, who presented him a gift.

Surplus Food Distribution Plan Approved

A plan for the distribution of surplus federal foods in Allegany County for the needy and low income groups was adopted yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The plan, drawn up by Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the board, lists the eligibility requirements.

Persons on public welfare will make up the majority of the recipients of the food.

Families are eligible if they do not have more than $300 in savings or savings bonds. The income of the family and the number of persons in the family are used to determine eligibility.

A family of one or two persons can not have income of more than $35 per week, three to five persons, $45 per week, six to eight persons, $55 per week and eight or over, $65 per week. This is $10 per week higher than the income standard used several years ago when a surplus food program was in effect.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (AP)—Trading in grain futures was a slow affair most of the time today on the Board of Trade but with occasional spurts in the May contracts.

The new crop wheat deliveries and rye held small gains most of the day while corn and oats were off fractions of a cent. Soybean trade was light and prices weaker.

Wheat closed 1 1/4 cents a bushel lower on May 1, higher on the new crop deliveries, May $2.18-17 1/4; corn unchanged to 1/4 lower, May $1.27 1/2-3/4; oats 1/2 cent higher, May $1.37 1/2-3/4; soybeans unchanged to 1/4 lower, May $2.24 1/2; lard 5 to 13 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.37.

Secrets Of Charm by John Robert Powers

Little Things Count

Remember, it's "the little things in life that count." Although some teen-agers may think their modern parents dreamed it up, the charm of fastidious grooming is not a new discovery. Men dislike women to be messy and unkempt. Thomas Jefferson, for instance, the third president of the United States once wrote to his teen-ager daughter, "Nothing is so disgusting to our sex as a want of cleanliness and delicacy in your."

This prominent and wise leader further added that clothes should not be worn when the dirt on them is visible to the eye! In other words the time to wash them is before the dirt shows. Men have always noticed grooming and objected to the lack of it. Even children notice their mother's appearance more than they can realize.

About gloves, Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, "Wear seemly gloves; not black, nor yet too light. And least of all the pair that once was white."

They must be clean. White kid gloves such as the type you wear to weddings can be worn just once. Even fabric ones should be washed after each wearing to preserve their immaculate look.

It shouldn't be necessary for me to mention that all your lingerie must be fresh and clean. Many a girl has lost a beau because a soiled shoulder strap on her slip showed. So beware! A charming, refined girl or woman is always as particular about her underwear as she is about her outer clothes. And she has to be even more cautious during the warmer months when one perspires more freely. More changes are needed then.

NEW YORK (AP)—An uncertain stock market produced an irregular price pattern Friday. Volume sank to the lowest since April 10.

The turnover of 2,030,000 shares compared with 2,470,000 Friday. Prices of leading stocks changed from fractions to around a point, generally. A notable exception was Kennecott which rose 2 points, inspired by news that it had declared its usual dividend.

This in itself was symptomatic of the drab state of corporate reports which continued to produce lower earnings and reduced or omitted dividends.

The crisis in France and hectic events elsewhere in the globe contributed to normal pre-weekend caution, prompting traders to even up their positions. Domestic news was a shade better for construction contracts, auto assemblies and railroad carloadings.

Analysts said that the stock market, having recouped Thursday more than half of its big losses of the day before, had gone through a customary technical performance and was awaiting some further development to give it a shove one way or the other. Meanwhile, the lower-priced stocks continued to dominate trading as they have all week but Friday some of them made little or no upward progress.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dipped a minimum 10 cents to $167.60 with the industrials up 10 cents, the rails, down 70 cents and the utilities unchanged.

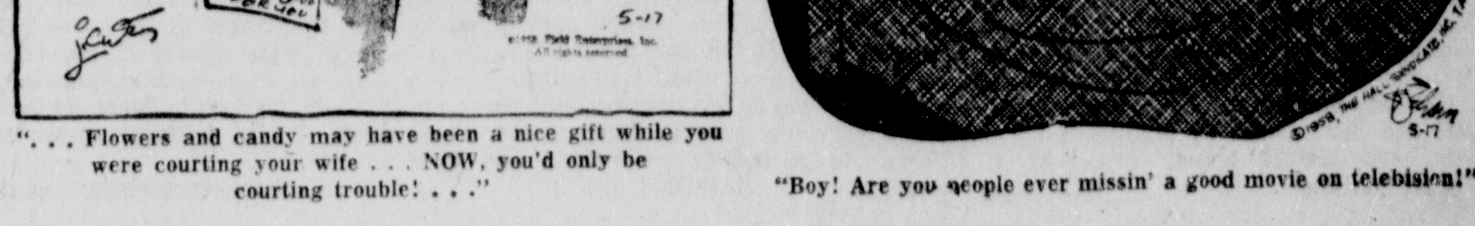

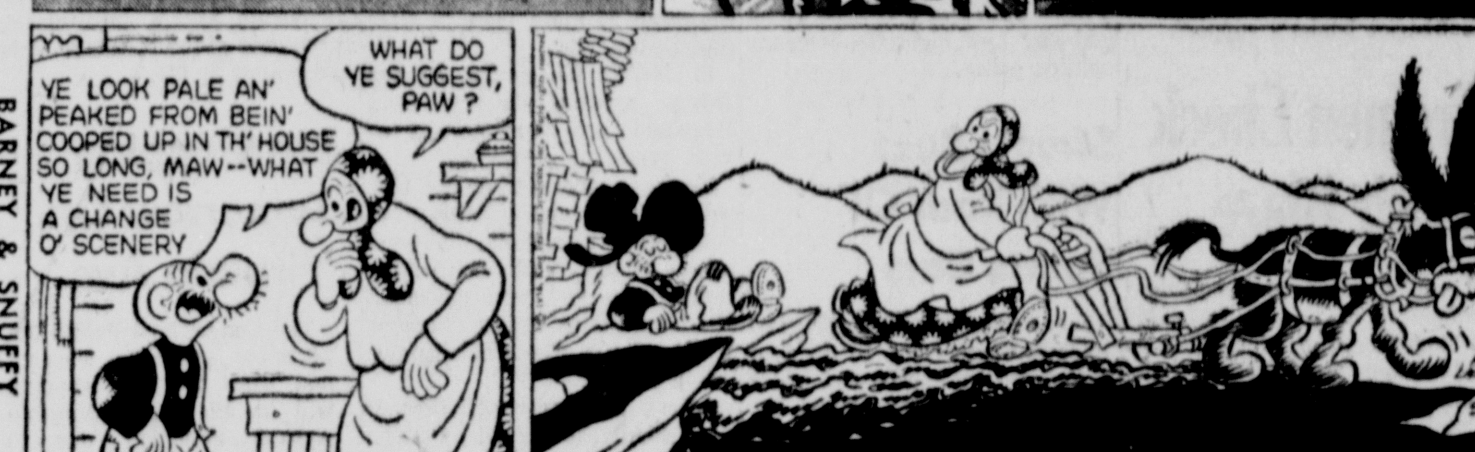

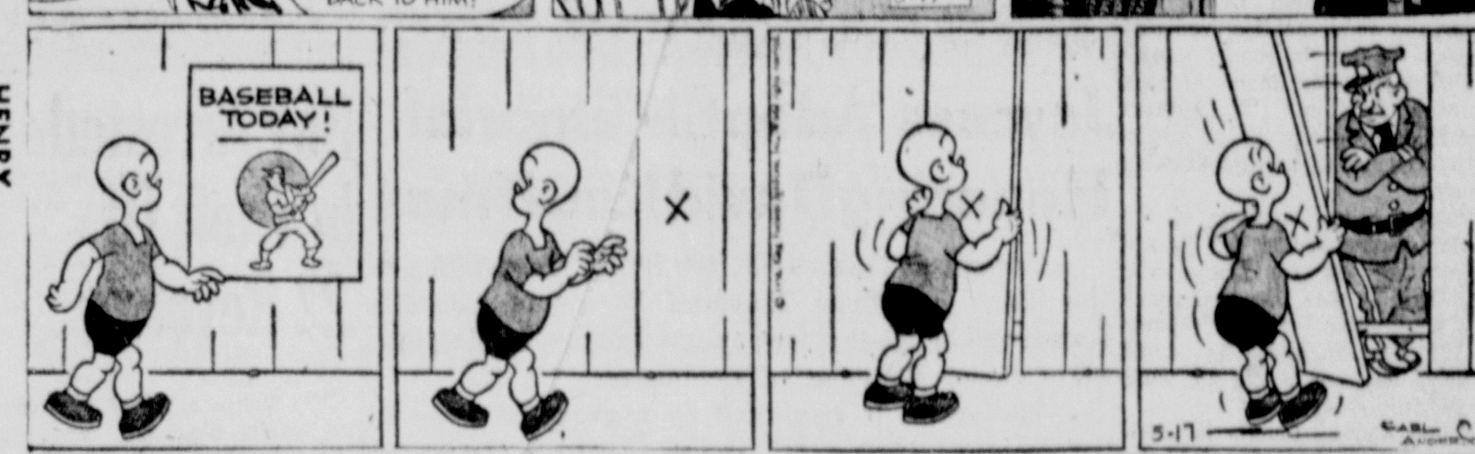

Of 1,161 issues traded, 492 rose and 386 fell. New highs for the year totaled 70 and new lows 11. Six of the 16 most active stocks rose, 8 fell and 2 were unchanged. Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Volume was 890,000 shares compared with 990,000 Thursday.

Mahoney Not Faking Crutch, Says Doctor

New 'Lying' Charges Enter Campaign

By The Associated Press

A physician said Friday that anyone is lying who claims George P. Mahoney is faking by using crutches.

The fitness of Mahoney's feet popped up as an issue in the U.S. Senate Democratic primary campaign when Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro said his rival sometimes campaigns with them and sometimes without.

Dr. George E. Bennett, professor emeritus of orthopedic surgery at Johns Hopkins Hospital, said Mahoney's pride had led to the condition which required his using crutches.

"He did not wish to go on crutches because he thought people would think he was soliciting sympathy," Dr. Bennett said.

The Baltimore County paving contractor injured his foot when he jumped off a platform while stumping in the 1956 gubernatorial race.

"Harmony" Victory Predicted

Meanwhile, the "harmony" ticket on which D'Alesandro is one of four candidates running for state-wide office staged a television hookup of three stations in Baltimore, Washington and Salisbury.

The report from Democratic figures in eight counties predicted victory for the "harmony" slate.

D'Alesandro continued to seek votes in Baltimore City, appearing Friday night in the 1st Legislative District where he makes his home.

James Bruce, another of the major aspirants for the Senate nomination on the Democratic side, said he was offered the party's nomination for U. S. senator in 1956. But he added he turned it down because he did not want to split the party.

Bruce, Carroll County industrialist and ex-ambassador, said the offer was made after the Democratic Convention in Chicago. He said that while in Cleveland on the return trip he received telephone calls from several party leaders in Maryland, including D'Alesandro; James H. Pollack, Baltimore 4th District figure; E. Brooke Lee, of Montgomery County and Michael J. Birmingham, Democratic national committee man from Maryland.

Bruce Sought Unity

All four offered him the nomination, Bruce said, inasmuch as Millard E. Tydings had dropped out of the race due to illness.

Bruce said he contacted Mahoney, runnerup to Tydings in the primary, and Mahoney declined to quit the battle. Bruce said he decided not to enter the contest because "I thought that the thing was to unify the party."

Bruce meanwhile emphatically denied a politician's charge that he tried to buy support in his campaign.

He termed a "----- lie" the accusation by Pollack that Bruce had visited Pollack four times and offered him money and federal job patronage in exchange for the 4th District leader's support.

Firemen Check Brush Blaze

Local firemen and volunteer firefighters of LaVale yesterday evening fought a brush fire on Wills Mountain near the city limits.

A spokesman for the volunteers said the fire originated near the B&O Railroad tracks and spread up the mountain, scorching about an acre.

They used Indian pumps and rakes to quell the flames. The cause of the blaze was not known.

Boy Arrested In Theft Of .22 Revolver

City Police arrested a 13-year-old West Side boy yesterday afternoon shortly after a .22 calibre J. C. Higgins blue steel revolver was reported missing from the gun case at the Sears, Roebuck and Company store on Baltimore Street.

Police Detective James E. Van said the gun was found in the boy's home and he was placed under arrest by Detective George Furstenberg.

The boy was returned to the custody of his parents pending a hearing next week in Juvenile Court. Another local boy also is a suspect in the larceny.

A portable radio and two hubcaps have been reported taken from local residents. Lt. Van said Mrs. Mary Abe, 232 Elder Street, notified police a Zenith Trans-Oceanic portable radio was taken off the front porch of her home during the evening just before dark.

The black radio, she said, can be identified by a piece of the case broken on the top near the handle. Its value was placed at $145.

Good News For Drivers: No More 29 Gas Signs

CHARLESTON (AP) — All — not just part — of the figures on signs advertising the price of gasoline in West Virginia must hereafter be large enough for the passing motorist to read.

That is the effect of a new regulation issued by State Labor Commissioner H. Richard Kennell. It provides that "the price advertised in tenths or decimals of a cent will be at least one-third the size of the large figures which advertise the price of the product by the gallon."

In other words, if the price is 29.9 cents a gallon, the nine-tenths must be in figures at least one-third as large as the 29 cents.

Polio Vaccine Is Being Urged For Youngsters

Summer Is Cited As Danger Season

Parents of pre-school age children are being urged to have their tots inoculated with Salk polio vaccine as a precautionary measure against the crippling disease.

Dr. Ton van Strien, Allegany County health officer, said the summer months ahead are a time of the year when the polio virus is more prevalent.

He pointed out that the vaccine may be given to a child after he has reached the age of two months.

1, 2, 3 Treatment

If the first shot is given now and the second shot is given in June, the child will have partial protection during the summer months until the third and final shot is given some seven months after the second.

Many small tots as yet have not been inoculated. This can partially be explained by the tendency of many parents to await giving children the necessary protection until they reach school age.

He said during the past three years immunizations were made available on a wholesale basis to first graders. It is apparently not realized by the parents that the initial mass immunization program has come to an end.

Should See Doctor

Parents of Allegany County are strongly urged to discuss the matter with their physician or with the public health nurse in their area.

The Health Department is giving immunization only at the regular child hygiene clinics held in various parts of the county.

The time to protect the child against the disease is when he is young. There is an adequate supply of the vaccine in the county, said Dr. van Strien.

During 1957 all schools in the county were visited by health authorities and the pupils were given shots. Adults from 21 to 40 years of age also are encouraged to get the vaccine.

After intermission, the program will resume with the Grand March from "Aida" and will feature the brass section of the group.

Conductor Syckes has arranged the program so it will be enjoyed by people with all tastes in music. The concert will not be long and parents are invited to bring their children.

At 3:01 a. m. tomorrow dial telephone service will begin at Hyndman, Pa., and Charlesville, Pa., which is located about 10 miles southeast of Bedford.

William Hagstrom, Bedford district manager for the United Telephone Company, announced the cutover time yesterday.

He said that with the introduction of dial service, telephone users in the two communities can complete local calls without the aid of an operator.

Long distance, information, assistance and other special types of calls will continue to be handled by the Bedford telephone office.

Effective with the change to dial service all Hyndman and Charlesville telephone numbers will be changed. Supplemental directories listing the new metropolitan type (two letters-five digit) telephone numbers were distributed to telephone customers in the areas served.

Mr. Hagstrom said Hyndman has been assigned the name Victoria while Charlesville has been assigned Thornwall in the nationwide telephone numbering plan.

The plan, he said, has been designed to permit eventual customer dialing of telephone calls on a continent-wide basis.

Pupils in the schools of the two communities have been familiarized with the use of dial through a number of demonstrations at schools.

WILLIAM H. BUCHHOLTZ

Buchholtz Files For Re-election To Council Post

Street Commissioner To Seek Fourth Term

Commissioner William H. Buchholtz filed yesterday as a candidate for re-election in the June municipal elections.

Buchholtz, of 713 Fayette Street, paid his $25 Council filing fee to City Clerk Wallace G. Ulery early yesterday. He will be seeking his fourth term. Buchholtz served two consecutive two-year terms as commissioner of finance and revenue and the past four years as commissioner of streets and public property.

During his Street Department tenure, Buchholtz said "more streets have been paved and given light surface treatment than ever before in the history of Cumberland."

This has been accomplished, the commissioner added, despite a minimum amount of money available. However, he continued, the department has attempted to be progressive in every respect and undertaken, through financial reforms in the department, to pay its own way.

Savings Are Cited

Two examples of these reforms are placing foremen on an annual salary of $4,000 thereby reducing overtime paid and channeling that money saved into the street maintenance fund; and the purchase of small equipment which saved man-hours and speeded up work on various projects, especially in inclement weather, with the result that expenses again were reduced and the money applied to needed improvements.

Major improvements were undertaken in physical properties of the city. These included renovations at City Hall, the Annex and Public Safety buildings which were sandblasted and cleaned. Also completed was the transfer of the city clerk's office into the basement of City Hall, increasing facilities, modernizing the handling of city business matters and adding to efficiency of administration.

"I have attempted to serve the best interest of the people and if they desire to return me to office, will continue to serve all of them to the best of my ability," Buchholtz said.

While in office, Buchholtz advocated an industrial promotion fund which led to the first brochure on the subject here and brought about the first industrial promotion committee which brought new industry to the city. During his terms as finance commissioner, he said he persuaded council to divide its idle funds among various banks which has brought thousands of dollars in interest payments into city accounts.

Helped Rec Program

Buchholtz continued he had played an instrumental part in setting up the city recreation ordinance. Prior to passage of the ordinance and setting up the present Recreation Department by the city, Buchholtz had been president of the old City Play-ground Association, forerunner of the recreation setup. In 1948 when he first ran for office, Buchholtz said he resigned as association president "because I felt recreation should not be involved in politics and I hold to the same principle today."

Burning Rules Still Effective

Although there is now considerable green foliage and a surplus of rainfall has been reported so far this month, Senior Forest Supervisor Brook Bodkin issued a reminder yesterday that the controlled burning regulations for Maryland remain in effect through the rest of May.

March, April and May are the controlled burning months in the spring and the period from September 15 until December 15 has similar restrictions.

All citizens should exercise the same care during May that they observed in the earlier spring months because the fire danger is not yet past, Mr. Bodkin emphasized.

Fire Network Adds Three Radio Units

16 Companies Now Are Linked

The Fire Network of Allegany County Civil Defense will be expanded when three additional fire companies obtain radio equipment.

McCoole, District 16 at North Branch and Ellerslie will get the additional radios available under the present budget. "These additions will mean that 16 fire companies and the County Civil Defense truck will be equipped with radios.

Action to expand the radio network was taken at a meeting Wednesday night at the LaVale Fire Hall after William G. Barger, director of Civil Defense, reported the radios were available under the budget.

Represented at the meeting were the Cumberland Fire Department, which has six radio units; Frostburg and LaVale, three units each; Bedford Road, Barton, Midland and Bowling Green, two each, and Bowman's Addition, Clarysville and Shalt, one each. Unrepresented at the LaVale meeting were Baltimore Pike, Corriganville, Potomac of Westernport, Cresaptown and Flintstone.

To pay for the FCC tests which are required each six months, a $20 assessment per unit was approved. Cromwell C. Zembower, secretary, will distribute bills.

David E. Kirk, liaison officer for the radio network, was in charge of the meeting. The group will conduct its annual meeting in September when officers will be elected. Committee books will be audited by the Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association auditing committee. A report will be made at the two-county convention at LaVale on Wednesday, June 4. The committee is under control of the association but elects its own officers.
